

HHM Wealth Advisors, LLC is registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission as an investment adviser and, as such, we provide advisory services rather than brokerage services. Brokerage and investment advisory services and fees differ and it is important for you, our client, to understand the differences. Additionally, free and simple tools are available to research firms and financial professionals at Investor.gov/CRS, which also provides educational materials about broker-dealers, investment advisers, and investing. This document is a summary of the services and fees we offer to "retail" investors, which are natural persons who seek or receive services primarily for personal, family, or household purposes.

Investment Authority: We manage investment accounts on a discretionary basis whereby we will decide which investments to buy or sell for your account. Key Questions to Ask Your Financial Professional

- Given my financial situation, should I choose an investment advisory service? Why or Why Not?
- How will you choose investments to recommend to me?
- What is your relevant experience, including your licenses, education and other qualifications?
- What do these qualifications mean?

What fees will I pay?

The following summarizes the principal fees and costs associated with engaging our firm for investment advisory services. For detailed information, refer to our Form ADV Part 2A Brochure, Items 5 and 6 by clicking this link <https://adviserinfo.sec.gov/firm/brochure/150843>.

- Asset Based Fees - Payable quarterly in advance. Since the fees we receive are asset-based (i.e., based on the value of your account), we have an incentive to increase your account value which creates a conflict especially for those accounts holding illiquid or hard-to-value assets;
- Hourly Fees - Payable in arrears (i.e., at the end of the billing period) or quarterly depending upon extent of engagement;
- Fixed Fees - Payable as invoiced or quarterly in advance for fixed retainer; Retirement Plan Consulting fees are paid in arrears (i.e., at the end of the billing period).
- Commissions - Some persons providing advice on behalf of our firm are licensed as independent insurance agents. We receive the insurance commissions for the sale of insurance products by those persons;
- Report Fee - Payable quarterly;
- Additional common fees and/or expenses such as: custodian fees; account maintenance fees; fees related to mutual funds and exchange-traded funds; transaction charges when purchasing or selling securities, and other product-level fees associated with your investments;

- Tax Preparation Fees - Payable as invoiced.

You will pay fees and costs whether you make or lose money on your investments. Fees and costs will reduce any amount of money you make on your investments over time. Please make sure you understand what fees and costs you are paying.

Key Questions to Ask Your Financial Professional

- Help me understand how these fees and costs might affect my investments. If I give you $10,000 to invest, how much will go to fees and costs, and how much will be invested for me?

What are your legal obligations to me when acting as my investment adviser? How else does your firm make money and what conflicts of interest do you have?

When we act as your investment adviser, we have to act in your best interest and not put our interest ahead of yours. At the same time, the way we make money creates some conflicts with your interests. You should understand and ask us about these conflicts because they can affect the investment advice we provide you. Here are some examples to help you understand what this means.

- Third-Party Payments: Certain person providing investment advice on behalf of our firm provide tax advice and preparation services through Henderson Hutchinson & McCullough, PLLC, an affiliated accounting firm. Revenue for these services is separate and in addition to our advisory fees. These practices present a conflict of interest because they incentivize Advisory Representatives to recommend tax related services.
- Because our revenue is derived from asset-based fees, we have an incentive to grow your account as much as possible. This could cause us to take overly aggressive positions in conflict with your interests in an attempt to grow your account, or could incentivize us to inflate the valuations of illiquid investments held in your account.

Refer to our Form ADV Part 2A Brochure Items 5, 10, 12 and 14 by clicking this link <https://adviserinfo.sec.gov/firm/brochure/150843> to help you understand what conflicts exist.
